FORCED PRESIDENT OUT.

Rioters in Italian Chamber of Deputies Win Their Point.

Rome, March 31.—Signor Palberti, the vice president of the house, took the chair at the opening of the chamber of deputies today and announced that Signor Colombo had resigned the presidency and that the other officials attached to the presidency had also resigned.

After a speech delivered by Signor Palberti, the former premier, who urged conciliation, the chamber adopted a motion submitted by the premier general, Pelloux, making the election of a president of the house the first business of Monday's session.

The sitting today was calm, though the socialists were exultant at the resignation of Signor Colombo, which they attributed to their uncompromising obstruction.

CENSUS OF LIVESTOCK.

New Features Regarding Classification to Be Undertaken By Bureau.

Washington, March 31.—The coming census of livestock will undertake three new features—classification by sex and partly by age, and use and an enumeration of stock not on farms and ranches, these last amounting to several million head. The age classification was undertaken in response to a demand of the stockmen, who felt that the mere enumeration of animals was worthless as a count of inhabitants without distinction of age, sex, color and occupation.

They expressed a desire to secure a basis for calculating the approximate number of livestock of the country, the capacity of the entire mass of cattle and sheep for any particular season, and the schedules have been prepared to meet their wishes.

Attention! To People Desiring to Move.

SALT LAKE COUNTRY CLUB.

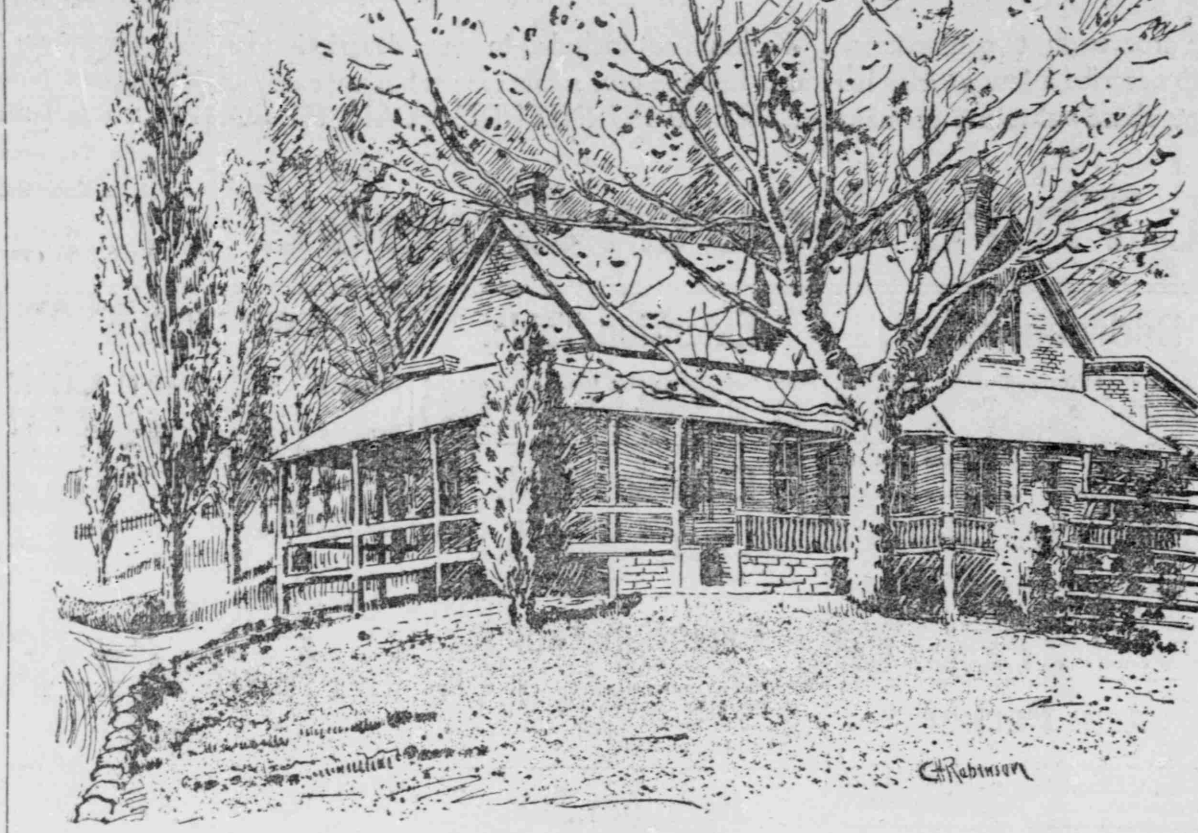

Description of the Advantages and Purposes of the Organization.

The Salt Lake Country club, which was organized last autumn, has already become popular with lovers of healthy and vigorous sports and on its membership list are seen the names of the most prominent people of the city. It has not yet been formally opened although the improvements under way are so near completion that preliminary arrangements are now being made for a reception and house warming.

The club is the outgrowth of the Voluntary Association golf club, which was organized last September and rectly north, running along the top of the beach on Tenth East and below Ninth South with a beautiful view of the surrounding valley with the mountains and Saltair in the distance.

To find the sixth hole the player drives southwest, back across the canal, a distance of 200 yards, and then northwest 260 yards, with the green on the brink of a deep gulch. The drive to the eighth hole is across the gulch 145 yards. The "home" hole is a distance of 245 yards with the green on the lawn just north of the house, which

Invitations for the exercises are being prepared and from the signs it appears as though graduation were at hand. Both the senior and junior class day programs are very interesting in arrangement and will set a standard for the following classes to reach. Meanwhile the regular work of the school is steadily progressing.

Friday afternoon the seniors and Juniors were waited upon by a committee of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution to arrange for an oratorical contest on the subject of "American Patriotism."

Mrs. C. E. Allen, as chairman of the contest, explained the object of the contest. The order offers a handsome medal to be awarded to the writer of the best oration, the subject to be selected by the writer, but to be of a patriotic theme. The rules governing the contest will be given to the competitors by Miss Dukes, head of the English department, and she has general charge of the contest and will arrange the details. Other members of the committee who were present were Mrs. O. S. Allen, Mrs. George W. Wallace, Mrs. J. F. Allen, Mrs. W. Chisholm and Miss Sherman.

The Daughters offer this medal to the girls of the senior and junior classes. The local chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution have offered a similar medal to the boys of these classes. Mr. George L. Nye, president of the Sons of the American Revolution, was expected to be present to speak to the boys and explain further the object of the contest. He was, however, detained and unable to be present. In his absence Mr. Hager gave a brief explanation of its purpose and the breadth of the subject. The orations are a part of the regular class work in English and are limited to 1,000 words in length. The names of the judges in the contest will be announced later.

State University.
Chapel exercises were crowded each morning of last week. The students enjoyed very much the richly moral talks of Dr. J. E. Talmage. His theme for the week was charity, or love.
